couples. It was another sight of great beauty and elegant costumes, and when the circle was formed there were two complete circles around the spacious hall. The dancers were somewhat crowded but all had a glorious time, and enjoyed every moment until 4:00 a. m. At ten o'clock the dining room was opened and was a sight that appealed strongly to the inner man as well as to the eye. It was delightful to both. The tables were beautifully laid under direction of Charles O. Whipp, assisted by the able corps of table girls. At once people began to enter and from then until three a. m. the tables were filled the most of the time. The supper was prepared by Mark L. Page and was one of the best ever sat down to in Lancaster. Following is the

THE OFFICERS OE THE BALL.

Chief Marshal, William H. Thompson.

Aids, Fielding Smith, Ivan W. Quimby, Isaac W. Hopkinson. Introduction, Garvin R. Magoon, Coos; F. W. Noyes, Gorham; C. C. Gerrish. Berlin; John C. Crawshaw, Jefferson; H. A. Graves, Whitefield; D. A. Noel, Colebrook; John C. Eastman Littleton; Dr. A. W. Scott, Groveton; Parker J. Noyes, F. H. Nourse, Herbert A. Moore, Frank E. Richey, Joseph Smith, Lancaster.

THE MUSIC.

The Music furnished by Burnham & Barney of Berlin was excellent and received many encores. It was composed of 12 pieces, the members in full dress, and they were prompt in keeping up the joys of the dance.

MEALS SERVED.

The Lancaster House served 1200 meals during the day. The ladies of the Eastern Star served 1500 lunches and some over 300 partook of the ball banquet.

THE BUILDING.

The building itself is an unpretentious but handsome structure of brick, 77x100 in size, with three stories and a basement. It was built and is owned equally by the town and by the North Star corporation, composed of the four North Star bodies, lodge, chapter, commandery and the Scotttsh Rite.

The basement contains large store, space for the Water Department, Club room and closets for the fire department and the heating plant.

The first floor is principally devoted to the opera house, 52x63 feet in size, and containing a stage 26x53 feet which is claimed to be the largest and best equipped in this part of the state. The seating capacity of the auditorium and the balcony together is 850 people.

The first floor is also occupied by the town clerk's office and the selectmen's offices, with the fire proof vault, and a room in the front of the building, 24x40 feet, is devoted to the fire department, which also has what is practically a club room in the basement.

The second floor contains the balcony, while for public purposes there is also a ladies' parlor, a dining hall 23x52 in size, and a large kitchen.

The third floor is occupied exclusively by the Masons and is claimed to contain the most perfectly and conveniently arranged hall for Masonic work in this state. It is also said by the grand officers to be the largest Masonic hall in the state outside of the big cities and it is undoubtedly one of the most handsomely decorated and elegantly furnished of which the jurisdiction boasts.

Upon reaching this floor the first door approached is that leading into a large smoaking room, entirely separate from everything else, and supplied with toilet closets and all other conveniences. Straight ahead is the candidates waiting room, and a step further the prelate's room 18x45 in size and elegantly furnished. This leads to the main hall, 50x45 feet. The armory is 60x25 feet and the dining room 50x25, while the kitchen is both large and convenient, and is fitted with elegant new crockery, new range, and everything that could be wished.

THE CONTRACTOR.

The contractor and builder of this structure was John H. Smith of this town. Mr. Smith is a loyal member of the Masonic bodies and his work was done in a fine manner and reflects great credit on him as a builder. Throughout the whole work Mr. Smith has endeavored to make everything right and to the satisfaction of the building committee. The foundation was put in by W. C. Putnam, the brick work by Ward & Douglass of Montpelier, and the wood work was under the direction of Mr. Smith's brother, Ephiram Smith, assisted by two other brothers, Frank B. and Charles Smith. The painting was done by George Round, the heating apparatus by the Thompson Manufacturing Co., and the electric fixtures by Frank Smith & Co. Fred Hodgdon did the wiring and it is one of the best jobs we ever saw. On the whole the entire structure is very satisfactory to all.

THE MASONIC HALL.

This room is elegantly finished in California redwood, is 45x50 feet. The ceiling is in panels and is tinted a delicate sky blue. The panels are supported by redwood pilasters, and the walls are in terrascotta. The seats are raised on the sides, the south one step, the west two steps and the east three steps. There are most convenient anti-rooms and paraphernalia rooms connected.

THE FURNITURE.

The massive furniture that adorns the elegant hall was purchased through John C. Hutchins of Coos, and was made by the celebrated firm of A. B. & E. L. Shaw of Boston. The piece in the East is of California redwood of elegant design and contains nine emblems and a letter "G" which are lighted by electric lights from behind. There are eight settees, 26 chairs, two desks for secretary and treasurer, three pedestals and, an altar, all in solid mahogany of massive and elegant design. The upholstering is in green plush, the draperies are of green silk, and the whole is of the finest quality made.

THE CARPET.

The carpet is of the finest five-frame Brussells, of a beautiful shade of red with a light figure. This was purchased through Valiee & Hartley of this town of John H. Pray & Sons of Boston, and is entirely satisfactory in every particular. Mr. Wilkins from the Boston house took the measurements of the hall and John Wilhelin of the same concern did the laying. This part of the work is most satisfactory and is a job that all are proud of. Every seam is absolutely straight, and every figure, in which ever way you look, is perfectly matched. To Valley & Hartley belong the credit of this most elegant job and they are to be congratulated on the promptness in which they completed their work.

THE ORGAN.

The Organ has two manuals, compass cc to c, 61 notes each, a full set of pedals cce to F, 30 notes. It has 13 reg s ers composed of 9 speaking stops, 3 couplers, and a blowers signal. There are two combination pedals operating the stops of the great organ, a pedal to operate the swell to great coupler at octaves, another for the tremolo, and a balanced pedal to operate the swell folds. There are 518 pipes in the organ, which are supplied with compressed air from a capacious bellows, pumped at present by hand power, but will be controlled by an electric motor in the near future.

The exterior casing is made of California Redwood finished to correspond with the other wood work of the Hall, and surmounted with ornamental pipes covered with gold leaf which is relieved by a delicate stencil pattern in the centre.

The key frames and interior desk fittings are of rich dark mahogany, the keys are best Ivory and Ebony, the Register knobs are of polished Ebony with Ivory tablets, and there is an indicator above the keys which registers the amount of compressed air in the bellows.

The organ is from the factory of the Hutchins-Votey Organ Co., of Boston and New York, the largest and most celebrated organ building firm in the world, and for quality, sweetness, delicacy and variety of tone, combined with the richness and volume of it's full power it has no superior of it's size in New Hampshire.

The organ has been set up and finished by Charles Bowen one of the firm's most experienced experts, who has been in the business from a boy.

The following is a synopsis of the stops and accessories:

GREAT ORGAN		SMALL ORGAN

L. D. and C. D. Kenerson, chair in memory of Benj. R. Kenerson.

The beautiful East described in another place, was presented by Col. Henry O. Kent, and Frank Smith presented one of the finest chairs.

THE PRELATE'S APARTMENTS.

This room is one of the most beautiful rooms in the building. It is carpeted the same as the lodge room and is furnished with the furniture from the old lodge room, which has been repaired and revarnished. It contains four 9 foot settees, four elegant chairs, an alter and a pedestal, all in black walnut and red plush upholstering.

THE ARMORY.

This room has hard wood floor and contains 64 cases for Knights Templar uniforms and space for additional ones. It also contains a full length mirror, and two cases for banners and flags.

THE BUILDING COMMITTEE.

The build ng committee was composed of Dr. Ezra Mi chell, chairman, Frank D. Hutchins, Garvin R. Magoon, George N. Kent, Edmund Sullivan and Ivan W. Quimby. who had charge of the construction.

THE PRINTING.

The posters, programes, menus, order of dances, etc., were printed at the GAZETTE office and were works of art.

Taking Off Old Wall Paper.

To take off wall paper previous to painting or papering wet the old paper thoroughly with a long handled brush dipped in warm water. Let it rest until the water has penetrated it and the paper blisters and loosens, when you can peel it off with your hands. Do not wet too much at a time.

New York's City Hall.

New York city hall is only thirty-six feet above the sea level.

Chinese Medicines.

Some Chinese medicine consisting of monkeys' toes boiled down and hardened by being buried under ground for a number of years figured in a police court case at Shanghai recently.

Lighter Than Cork.

There is one wood much lighter than cork. This is the marsh anoua, found in Brazil.

An Old English Custom.

At a beautiful Wensleydale village the old custom of the blowing of a horn each night in winter is still carried out. Its purpose was to guide belated travelers in the forest, just as the foghorn guides the mariner who is nearing the coast.

Travelers' Paradise.

Nice and its neighborhood hold the record for holiday traffic. The record is 2,800,000 arrivals in the course of a year.

Glass.

A method of quickly rendering glass transparent during the process of manufacture consists in forcing into the melted materials a stream of oxygen gas, the enormous heat generated oxidizing all deleterious materials.

Pig Power.

In some of the farming districts of China pigs are harnessed to small wagons and made to draw them.

The Cabbage Cure.

Cabbage is an old cure for drunkenness. The Egyptians ate it boiled before their other food if they intended to drink wine after dinner, and some of the remedies sold as a preventive of intoxication on the continent are said to contain cabbage seed.

Chinese Women.

Every Chinese woman is practically a slave until her son marries. Then, as mother-in-law, she begins to rule, her son's wife being her subject.

A Beautiful Effect In Mahogany.

A peculiarly fine effect in mahogany is obtained by sawing crotches. A piece is sawed just above and just below a point where two limbs shoot out on opposite sides. When such a piece is properly cut up into veneer, the crotches show in beautiful plumelike markings through the middle of each sheet.

St. Peter's.

St. Peter's is in the form of a cross. It is 636 feet long by 450 feet wide. The dome is 448 feet high.

Snakes In England.

Of the 1,500 different species of snakes which are now known to naturalists the great majority are not poisonous, and of the four kinds of snakes or snakelike creatures which inhabit England only one is venomous.

Milk Germs.

The bacteria in the best milk number from 10,000 to 100,000 in each teaspoonful, while in the worst the number is from 4,000,000 to 600,000,000.

Vaccination.

Physicians say that if vaccination does not "take" it does not prove that the person vaccinated is immune from smallpox. One may be immune from vaccination or smallpox this week and not the next, today and not tomorrow, this morning and not this afternoon.

Iron Wire.

Iron can be drawn into thinner wire than any other metal except gold.

Woolly Horses.

Pliny the elder mentions a breed of horses "from a land far to the north of Lybia" which was distinguished on account of a woolly mane which extended from between the ears to the root of the tail.

Amethysts.

Amethysts are found in the galleries of old mountains, sometimes in iron and sometimes in agate beds.

The Zeze.

The zeze is a favorite instrument in east Africa. It is a sort of crude violin, composed of a bar of wood fastened to a large gourd. There is a single string made of vegetable fiber, and the different tones are produced by lengthening or shortening the string.

Infantile Deaths.

Ninety-six per cent of all deaths from whooping cough and 90 per cent of deaths from measles occur in children under five years old.

PROTECT YOUR BOOKS!

They're too valuable to be strewn about the room or house exposed to dust and damage! Of course you can't help it, if your book-case is full and of the old style solid construction. Better get rid of such a case, or start a new one that will always accommodate your books without being either too large or too small—one that grows with your library and always fits it. The

Globe-Wernicke
"Elastic" Book-Case

is the original and only up-to-date sectional book-case and is made by the largest manufacturers of such goods in the world. It's furnished in a variety of grades, sizes and prices, adapted to any and all requirements. It's a system of units, each unit fitted with the perfection dust-proof roller-bearing door. But we'll be glad to show them if you call, or will send illustrated catalogue on request.

Greenland Glaciers.

The great Greenland glaciers are on an average 1,000 feet thick and move fifty feet a day. Six of them yearly deliver into the sea four square miles of ice 1,000 feet thick.

Seaweed Made Useful.

The hollow stem of the species of seaweed indigenous to the neighborhood of the Cape of Good Hope was formerly used by the natives as a trumpet when dried. Still another kind furnishes the savages of some parts of Australia with vessels, many implements and even food.

To Cure Feathers.

To cure feathers dissolve two pounds of quicklime in two gallons of water. Let the mixture settle, then pour off the clear liquid. Soak the feathers in this for four days, then rinse in several clean waters and dry.

Fattening Bivalves.

Half developed oysters and bivalves which are poor in flesh, as a stockman would say, are now kept in regular pens and fattened for the market, as if they were pigs or other live stock.

Cuba's Forests.

No less than 30,000,000 acres of Cuba, nearly half the island, are forest. There are thirty different species of palms alone found there.

A Full Mail.

A transatlantic steamer carrying what is called "a full mail" usually has 200,000 letters and 300 sacks of newspapers for London, to say nothing of the five hundred and odd sacks for other places.

A Fish's Tail.

The tail of a fish is his sculling oar. He moves it first on one side and then on the other, using his fins as balances to guide his motion. If the fish is moving fast and wants to stop, he straightens out his fins just as the rower of a boat does his oars.

Dutch Mail Service.

In Holland the extent of the mail service routes is over 30,000 miles. The uniform of the postmen is semimilitary in character, and they themselves are said to be a remarkably handsome body.

Gold In the Bible.

The earliest book which mentions gold is the Bible. It occurs in Genesis ii, 11.

Hair and Wool.

Through the whole range of human, plant, goat's hair and sheep's wool nature shows such close gradations that it would be difficult to draw an exact line or to distinguish beyond a question of doubt between wool and hair.

Baking Powder.

Two ounces of tartaric acid, quarter of a pound of carbonate of soda and six ounces of ground rice flour mixed well together and put in tins make a good baking powder.

A Dog's Attack.

The supreme court of Vermont holds that the question whether an assault by a dog was prompted by playfulness or viciousness will not be considered in imposing liability on his owner for any resulting injuries. The dog of the defendant in the case at issue jumped against the plaintiff, throwing him down and breaking his hip.

R·I·P·A·N·S

The simplest remedy for indigestion, constipation, biliousness and and the many ailments arising from a disordered stomach, liver or bowels is Ripans Tabules. They have accomplished wonders, and their timely aid removes the necessity of calling a physician for many little ills that beset mankind. They go straight to the seat of the trouble, relieve the distress, cleanse and cure the affected parts, and give the system a general toning up. The Five Cent packet is enough for any ordinary occasion. The family bottle, 60 cents, contains a supply for a year. All druggists sell them.
