

At the organ recital in the Reformed church at Norristown, Prof. Stocks Hammond paid the following tribute to Mr.

church at Norristown, Prof. Stocks Hammond paid the following tribute to Mr. Samuel Bohler, organ builder, of this city: "I have played on quite a number of Mr. Bohler's organs and must confess this one is the best. It does great credit to Mr. Bohler, as its builder, and I congratulate this congregation on having procured such a superior organ. The action is easier and prompter than any organ I ever played on and the tone is good, clean and strong.
