

Southside To Dedicate New Organ

Journal, Saturday, Feb. 29, 1964

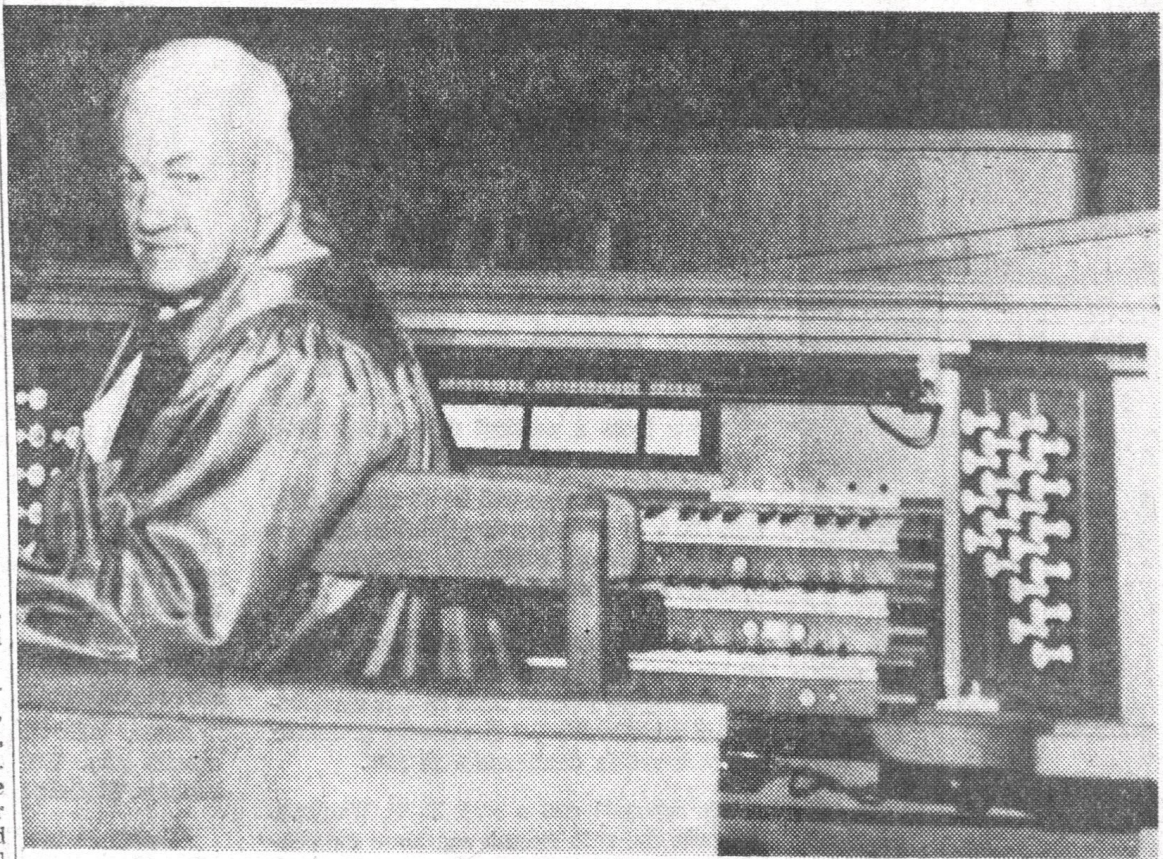

A large, new pipe organ which has been installed at Southside Baptist Church will be dedicated at the 11 a.m. service tomorrow.

The instrument, a 23-rank manual Moller organ with Deagan chimes, is the gift to the church from Mr. and Mrs. Brown Whatley. The Whatleys have long been members of the congregation and he has served in various official positions.

The dedication service will be conducted by Dr. Malcolm B. Knight, pastor.

A dedicatory recital will be given at 4 p.m. tomorrow by William Teague of Shreveport, La., a member of the faculty at Centenary College and a noted organist.

The program will include "Fanfare for Organ" by John Cook, the choral prelude "Nun komm, der Heiden Heiland" by J. S. Bach, Bach's Prelude and Fugue in A Minor, Sonata in E Minor by Herbert Nannay, Prelude and Fugue in A Minor by Marcel Dupre and "The Ninety-Fourth Psalm" by Julius Reubke.

Outside, Inside

Robert McNeight, organist at Southside Baptist Church since 1947, sits (top photo) at the console of the congregation's new pipe organ, which will be dedicated tomorrow. In bottom picture, Louis

Adams of Orlando tunes some of the instrument's 1,417 pipes, which will never be seen by most listeners. The organ is a gift to the church of Mr. and Mrs. Brown L. Whatley, members of the congregation. After dedication services tomorrow morning, a concert on the new organ will be presented at 4 p.m. with William Teague of Centenary College as guest organist. (Journal Photos)