

ORGAN FOR THE METHODIST CHURCH.— Samuel Bohler, of Reading, Pa., who built the new organ for the Moravian church, is engaged in the construction of a large organ for the Duke street Methodist church of this city, which will be completed about the first of June. It will be a full swell organ, with two banks of keys and twenty-two stops, and will cost $2,500. When the organ arrives, an organ opening concert will be given in the church.
