

TO CHURCH COMMITTEES AND ORGANISTS.—

On Friday and Saturday, September 25th and 26th, will be open for examination a new organ just completed for a church in Chicago, Illinois. It contains 28 stops, having two manuals, full compass, and a 16 feet pedal, of Bach's range.

The builder, John Roberts, of Frankford, Philadelphia, recently from Cambridge, Mass., offers this as a specimen work. His previous works have met the high approval of G. J. Webb, Professor of Music, Boston; Dr. S. P. Tackerman, organist of St. Paul's, Boston; A. U. Haytie, Esq., organist of Trinity Church, Boston, and formerly of Hereford and Salisbury Cathedrals, England; Dr. Lowell Mason, Orange, N. J.; Mr. Wm. Mason, Professor of Music, New York; Mr. Thos. Loud, Philadelphia; Prof. Henry G. Thunder, Philadelphia; Very Rev. P. Stanton, Philadelphia, or others.

To those wishing organs built, tuned or repaired, he offers his services on terms (in consideration of workmanship and quality of material employed) as reasonable as any organ builder in the country.

Persons can take the Fifth street cars, which run to and from Frankford, and pass the manufactory every 20 minutes during the day and evening. JOHN ROBERTS,

Organ Builder, cor. MAIN and ORTHODOX Streets,
Frankford, Pennsylvania.
