The Gift

In nineteen sixty-nine the Trustees became convinced that the pipe organ was beyond repair. Much of the original Roosevelt organ had been rebuilt or replaced about forty years ago, and forty years is about the life time of an organ.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Johnson of Summer Haven, who have long been members of our church, offered this new Aeolian-Skinner organ in order that Mr. Henry Morrison Flagler's memorial might be perpetuated. Its ninety ranks dwarf the fifty-six ranks of its predecessor, making our new instrument one of the finest in the nation.

The Aeolian-Skinner Company of Randolph, Massachusetts, has built many of the nation's distinguished organs including those in the Lincoln Center in New York, the Mormon Tabernacle in Salt Lake City, and the National Presbyterian Church in Washington, D. C. The trustees have also arranged for the company to replace the Echo organ, given by Hulda Lyon Smith and Susan Davenport Lyon, with an Antiphonal organ in the North Transept, and to add a set of Festival Trumpets in the South Transept, to be completed before the end of 1971. The Chimes, given by Mrs. Carrie Patterson Slater, are incorporated into the Choir organ.

A Sacred Concert Fund has been established by the Session in honor of the Johnsons so that outstanding organists may be invited to present special concerts. Those who wish may contribute to show their appreciation and to accept the trust of this great instrument of music which we believe will "make a joyful sounding noise" unto God and man for many years to come.

BELLS OF RIVERSIDE

Seth Bingham 1882-

Dr. Bingham is one of the handful of "Deans of American Church Music". In addition to his long and distinguished career at the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church in New York, he is a teacher and composer of great renown. His compositions are very diverse in style, and full of programmatic material. This joyful fantasy was written shortly after the opening of the Riverside Church in 1930. Dr. Bingham's home is near the church, and he heard the carillon ring the hour many times each day. The theme of this composition is that of the hourly ring, which is derived from Wagner's "Parsifal".

PRELUDE ON PSALM 23:4

Herbert Howells (1892-)

The works of this prominent English composer are many and varied, but few as popular as his two sets of Psalm preludes for organ. The text which inspired this fine work: "Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil, for Thou art with me; Thy rod and Thy staff, they comfort me."

PRELUDE AND FUGUE IN G MAJOR

Johann Sebastian Bach (1685-1750)

This is one of the most genial and energetic of Bach's organ works, which number more than 300. The prelude is pervaded with joy. The bold subject of the fugue with its repeated notes furnishes a happy theme for a work of unusual virility. Near the end we find a unique and dramatic pause on a dissonance, after which the subject and answer overlap each other in an exciting close.

INTRODUCTION, PASSACAGLIA AND FUGUE

Searle Wright

This work by the Organist and Director of Chapel Music at Columbia University opens with a brief introduction, then launches immediately into the passacaglia theme, upon which thirty variations are built. Many styles and periods are suggested in these variations, and it is to the credit of the composer that they form a convincing union in addition to adding interest through diversity. The subject of the fugue is derived from the passacaglia theme.

INTERMISSION

An offering will be taken during this time to defray expenses.

CHORAL IN E MAJOR

Cesar Franck (1822-1890)

The "Trois Chorals" were Franck's last compositions, and they represent a synthesis of his style and the culmination of his creative life. He used the term "Choral" not in the sense of a hymn-tune, but to designate a large-scale work which has as its central theme a chorale-like melody. The first Choral, in E Major, is in two large sections, separated by a rhapsodic interlude. The first section is divided into three parts. The second is a complex variation-technique development of the main theme, culminating in a triumphal chordal setting.

THREE PRELUDES ON SOUTHERN HYMN TUNES

Gardner Read (1913-)

My Soul Forsakes Her Vain Delight David, the King, Was Grieved and Moved How Happy Are the Souls Above

These preludes are based on authentic old hymn-tunes found in the 1902 edition of "The Sacred Harp", a collection of spirituals and Southern hymns, first published around 1850. In these settings the composer has preserved the quaintness and somewhat primitive quality of the original tunes.

L'ANGE A LA TROMPETTE

Jacques Charpentier (1931-)

(The Angel with the Trumpet)

Charpentier is a young French composer who is a student of Olivier Messiaen. He has composed numerous works for organ and chamber groups. The "Angel" in this work is a contemporary one, and the piece is written largely with three and one-half beats in each measure.

The new Aeolian-Skinner organ has been custom built for Flagler Memorial Presbyterian Church. Its tonal qualities have been especially voiced for the acoustical properties of this church. It is comprised of ninety ranks of pipes and seventy registers; it is divided into eight divisions which are: Positiv, Great, Swell, Choir, Pedal, Bombarde, Antiphonal and Festival Trumpets. They are controlled from a four-manual console.

Tonally, the organ has been finished so that all periods and styles of music may have an authentic performance. This would include music of the pre-Baroque up to and including the 20th century idiom. It is our hope that in the future this magnificent instrument may be both an inspiration and an aid to the choirs, the congregation and our visitors, as we lift our voices in the service of God.

William R. Dixon, Organist and Choirmaster, Seated at the console of the Aeolian-Skinner Pipe Organ.
