The organ is installed in the front, right-side chamber formerly occupied by the Swell of the preceding instrument.

Stops marked with an asterisk (*) above are from the previous 1930 Rochester Organ Co. instrument.

The Great 16' Bourdon is on tubular-pneumatic action to allow it to be shared with the Pedal.

The Swell division is at floor-level with the Great cantilevered over the console.

The console is detached and reversed.
